Instructor

Cathi Knauf is a Master Trainer for Tai Chi for Health Institute (TCHI) and is from Escanaba, MI. She is professionally trained as an RN, now retired. She began tai chi and qigong in 2004 to help with her arthritis and health. She has been teaching since 2005 and in 2006 began teaching Tai Chi for Health Programs.

Master Trainers bring varied experience in different styles of Tai Chi and forms including Yang, Chen, Sun, and other forms of Qigong. Master Trainers are personally trained and authorized by Dr. Paul Lam to conduct Tai Chi for Health Instructor Workshops.

TCA is evidence based CDC endorsed for Fall Prevention and shows the practice of tai chi has excellent health benefits and very low risk of injury. Because of this, many health professionals are recommending it to their patients. This has increased the demand for classes and instructors. Most facilities do require certification of their instructors.

Tai Chi for Arthritis & Fall Prevention Instructor Training Workshop

Facilitated by

Cathi Knauf, BSN
TCHI Master Trainer

September 19-20, 2015

Manistique, MI

What is Tai Chi for Arthritis and Fall Prevention?

Tai Chi for Arthritis (TCA) and Fall Prevention (FP) is a safe, effective and fun exercise program designed by Dr. Paul Lam and a team of Tai Chi and medical experts. TCA uses Sun style tai chi and is easy to learn, yet has much depth for more advanced learners.

Millions of people around the world have gained health benefits from the TCA program. Many scientific studies have shown that the TCA program relieves pain, improves quality of life and makes people feel better.

Clinical and research studies show this program to be safe and effective for people with arthritis. It is endorsed by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) as one of their recommended evidence based Fall Prevention programs and is one of the highest level evidence based programs of the Agency on Aging.

Tai Chi Improves:

- ☉ Balance and reduction of falls
- ☉ Muscular strength and stamina
- ☉ Fitness and circulation
- ☉ Posture and body awareness
- ☉ Flexibility and coordination
- ☉ Increased Immunity
- ☉ Levels of pain and stiffness
- ☉ Relaxation and ability to cope
- ☉ Concentration, focus and memory
- ☉ Enhances flow of energy
